

Nippon Oil (Guangzhou) Lubricants Corporation Acquires ISO 14001 and 9001 Certifications

Nippon Oil Corporation (President: Shinji Nishio) is pleased to announce that Nippon Oil (Guangzhou) Lubricants Corporation (President: Tadashi Kojima), one of Nippon Oil Corporation’s bases in China for manufacturing and selling lubricants, has simultaneously acquired both ISO 14001: 2004 and ISO 9001: 2000 certifications, international standards for environmental and quality management systems.

In 1995, Negishi Refinery of Nippon Petroleum Refining Co., Limited., a refining subsidiary of Nippon Oil Corporation, acquired ISO 14001 certification, the world-first in the oil industry. Since then we have been promoting the introduction of this certification and 26 group companies have now acquired the certification. ISO 9001 is mainly being acquired by refineries. Together with Tianjin Nisseki, we have completed certification acquisition for our lubricants manufacturing bases in China.

Under our group philosophy, “Environmental Harmony”, we regard our activities towards the environment, including the prevention of global warming, as key points for CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility) management, and we are also making efforts to maintain and improve product quality so as to improve the social credibility to our “ENEOS” brand. Nippon Oil Corporation shall continue to promote the aforementioned activities, aiming to become the most stakeholder supported industry leader.
